SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 19.-Dispatches from the Vaca Valley, in this State, report that an earthquake shock visited that section at 2:45 o'clock this morning, causing general destruction to property. A large brick hotel, bank buildings, Bartholet's twostory stone building, and in fact every building in the town of Winters was damaged. The contents of stores and dwellings were all piled on the floors in promiscuous leaps. The shock was from east to west and lasted about five or six seconds.

A panic seized the people of the town and in a minute after the shock was felt the streets were filled with scantily clad citizens of both sexes. Fortunately, although the strongest buildings rocked to and fro with the earth's ne were thrown to the ground or entirely collapsed, and no one was seri

The buildings most seriously damaged were the best in the city, and the loss will be heavy. Although people here are accustomed to earthquakes, this shock was so severe that

It created general alarm.

The towns of Dixon and Vacaville in the same section also felt the effect of the shock. So far it has been impossible to get details of the results of the seismic disturbance at any point in the valley, except Winters. It is feared that a great calamity has befallen that section. Wire communication is interrupted, and it will be several hours before it can be restored.

The three towns named all lie in the Vaca Valley, Salona County, on the California Pacific Railway, and each contain less than 1,000 inhabitants, though are thriving places.

CHARMED WITH WASHINGTON. Harry Furniss, the English Artist, Likes

the American Capital. WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.-After making sketches of everything and everybody of in-terest in Washington, Harry Furniss, the amous caricaturist of London Punch, has taken his departure for Chicago. He was harmed with Washington and was completely enraptured by the Capitol. He told your correspondent that he had seen nearly pletely enraptured by the Capitol. He told your correspondent that he had seen nearly all the principal Capitols of the world, but he had never seen such an imposing plece of architecture as Uncle Sam's magnificent pile of stone. He says he would never tire standing at one end of Pennsylvania avenue viewing the capitol at the other. During the time that Mr. Furniss was in Washington there was hardly a minute that Congress was in session that he wasn't present and was an attentive listener to the proceedings.

"The most impressive thing about the American Congress," said Mr. Furniss, "is its free and easy character. The Senate is sedate and all that, but still they have an easy-going way about it that? think very delightful. The Senators seen to be approachable, jolly good fellows. I was surprised that any one could walk in on the floor of the Senate up to the very time before calling it to order. I visited the Chamber one day just before the hour of meeting, and began to make some sketches; to my surprise a fine looking old gentleman, who had something of the Gladstonian charm to his face, began watching the progress of my pencil. He asked me if I was an artist on some paper, and upon replying in the affirmative he asked what paper? When I informed him he seemed to make a great deal over the seemed to make a great deal over things that were very important, and aided my understanding of the Senate. I asked one of the pages who the gentleman was, and the lad told me that he was Senator Cockerill of Missouri.

"I was also greatly impressed with the very forthly speech of Cockerill of Missouri."

and the lad told me that he was senator Cockerill of Missouri.

"I was also greatly impressed with the very forcible speech of Congressman Amos Cummings. I was interested in him because I had been told that he was one of the greatest journalists in America, and naturally I was interested in a person so distinguished in a profession to which I belong. Mr. Cummings is more like a member of Parliament in his manner of speaking. His speech showed great preparation and had a literary polish about it. He made no attempt at oratory, but delivered it in a straightforward, business-like manner, like the speeches in Parliament are delivered."

"Of course. I was greatly interested in Mr.

ment are delivered."

"Of course, I was greatly interested in Mr. Holman, the 'Objector' I believe they call him. I was not attracted to him as I would be to the others, for he was like nothing I ever saw before. I could not understand why he was opposed to a Navy, but I suppose that is because I didn't understand American polities. I had been foolish enough to believe that a Navy was necessary to every great nation. A gentleman who sat next to me in the gallery was kind enough to explain to me that Mr. Holman's district was in the interior of the country and that a foreign foe could not penetrate the boundaries of the territory which he represents. I suppose that it is much more different here to what it is in other countries and members are exis in other countries and members are expected to think of only what benefits their own districts.

'Yes, I think the lower branch of Congress Is a fine-looking body of men. I was fortunate enough to meet a number of the members and they certainly will compare well with the same class of people in any other part of the world. I am sure that Congressman Cadmus of New Jersey, who was so kind as to present me to President Harrison, would be a useful man if he was transplanted to Parliament and became acquainted with the interests of our country. I was glad to hear a useful man if he was transplanted to Parlament and became acquainted with the interests of our country. I was glad to hear that the people of New Jersey were to make him their Governor. How did I like the President? Oh, very well, but he seems to be a very absent-minded man. We do not know very much of him in England. We are much more interested in Blaine, McKinley and Cleveland. Oh, yes, we know of Senator filli over there, because he is opposing Mr.
Cleveland for President."
While Mr. Furniss is in Chicago he will be under the special charge of Mr.
Mosses P. Handy, who will tell him about what a great thing the World's fair is going to be, Mr. Furniss had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Handy some time ago in London. "I would not have remembered
Maj. Handy until I was told that he was President of the great American club where they guy foreigners who are their guests," they guy foreigners who are their guests, said Mr. Furniss. "I was introduced to him by Max O'kell. Maj. Handy told me that if came over to this country that he would take me to their dining club, and put me on the gridiron." I told him that I knew America was me to their dining club and put me on the gridiron." Itold nim that I knew America was far ahead of my own country in progressiveness, and I was not surprised that Americans wanted to put a furnace on the gridiron, but that in England they always put a gridiron on the furnace.

STANDARD OIL TACTICS.

Absorbing Gas Wells and Freezing Out Competitors.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 19 .- The Standard Oil Co., it is said, is trying to absorb the ng them into a gigantic trust, so as to suping them into a gigantic trust, so as to supply a manufactured fuel gas. The Standard company is said to be the owner of a process that has been fully tested and pronounced a success. The scheme is to make the Philadelphia, the original natural gas company of the world, the nucleus of the trust and double its stock, making a total capital ization of $15,000,000, which, it is said, will be more than enough to carry the scheme through. The Standard Co. is also trying to buy a big independent oil pipe line to the seaboard. This pipe line is almost complete from the McDonald oil field, in this county, to Linwood, on the Delaware, a few miles below Philadelphia. It is owned by W. I. Mellen, the millionaire producer, and will be the only independent oil pipe line in existence. The Standard, in its endeavors to secure this line, has forced the price of crude petroleum down to such a low point, 59 cents a barrel, that the independent producers are talking of a shut-down for five months, beginning May 1. ply a manufactured fuel gas. NATIVES BATTLE DESPERATELY IN DE. FENSE OF THEIR TERRITORY.

Attempts to Russianize German Settlers-Anniversary of Beaconsfield's Death-British Topics-Anarchists Again Active-Hunting a Market for Russian Securities-General Foreign News.

St. Louis, Senegal, April 19.-Advices from the interior show that the situation of the has greatly improved since the last reports out to punish Samory, the native chief ruling most of the country along the Upper Niger River, who had resented the interference of the French in the territory claimed by him to be under his jurisdiction.

The latest advices received here showed that after several engagements, in which the French had been uniformly victorious, the situation suddenly changed and the outlook for the French became desperate, they having neither the means to pursue the cam-paign nor the possibility of retreating. Samory, it was said, had gathered together a great force and was about to attack the French, and grave fears were entertained that the latter would all be killed. The news just received, however, shows that, though Samory did attack the French, he sustained bad defeat, and that a great number of his men were killed. The French loss was trifling. The battle took place near Kerouane on March 14. Two thousand of the natives were armed with modern rifles, but, fortunately for the French, they did not know how to properly use them. The fact know how to properly use them. The fact that the natives had these rifles, it was be-lieved, tends to support the proposition that the sale of firearms and ammunition to African chiefs, particularly Samory and King Behanzin of Dahomey, should be stopped by a mutual agreement between the powers.

GERMANS BOYCOTTED.

RUSSIA ALARMED AT THEIR INCREASED LAND HOLDINGS.

VIENNA, April 19 .- The energetic measures adopted by the St. Petersburg Government for Russianizing German colonists in Volhynia will be followed, it is feared, by similar neasures in other districts where German agriculturists flourish. The Novoe Vremya he Mokovskija Vjemdomosti, the Grashdanin and other newspapers reflecting the opinions of Panslavists, who now have the Czar's ear, contain long articles to show that a general campaign against Germans in Russia is in prospect. These newspapers say that the colonists are spies and Russian haters, and are robbing Russians of their own land. The Novorossiski Telegraph pub-lished a statement of the "encroachthe Germans own 1,000,000 acres, of which 00,000 acres have been purchased by them from bankrupt Russian noblemen. In Pultava, Charkow, Bessarabia, Jekaterinoslaw Tavritchek, Ufinisk, Astrachan, Orenburg, Saratoff, Samara and the region of the Don, adds the Telegraph, the same state of affairs exists. All the semi-official organs call for measures to protect the poor Russian nobil ity and the improvident Russian peasant against the thrifty Germans. Should these measures be inaugurated generally this sum-mer, as seems probable from the proceedings n Volyhnia, the sufferings in the province concerned would be terrible, as with the Germans would depart the backbone of trade and agriculture and the productiveness of the provinces affected would probably fall 50

ANARCHISTS AGAIN BECOMING ACTIVE-BRIEF In Wagons, on Horseback and Afoot the the Land Unfit for Farming-Loss Must Be the Lot of Many Boomers.

> Et. RENO. O. T., April 19.-Morning broke ipon the camps of the land hunters with a heavy fog and a light drizzle, which threatned to turn into a heavy down-pour of rain as the day grew older. This turned the ground in the vicinity of the streams into a quagmire of red mud of the consistency and adhesive quality of glue, and filled the owners of fast horses, who had counted upon their animals to carry them first across the line, with dismay. On the other hand who were on foot looked upon the lowering clouds with glee, as a heavy track, in sporting parlance, meant an equal chance for all. All the camps were early astir. On the line west of this place most of the boomers were up and had broken camp long before daylight. Wagons were greased, harness overlooked, horses rubbed lown and every precaution taken to insure the best possible results when the final struggle came. The same was true of the camps at Hennessy, Dover, Kingfisher, and other spots where the land seekers had gathered in large numbers. A ride along the line early in the morning disclosed innumerable small parties moving northward or southward in search of the best road into the reservation, and a glance into the reserva-tion itself showed that, despite the efforts of the United States deputy marshals and the soldiers, many had taken time by the forelock and entered the promised land in advance of the time set by the government. Here and there a head would bob up from the bed of an arroya only to be quickly with-drawn at the sight of any one on the out-the bed of an arroya only to be quickly withdrawn at the sight of any one on the outside.

Capt. Johnson of the Dover camp estimated this morning that there were about eighteen hundred persons there. The Deputy United States Marshal who has been assigned to look after the crowd in the Cherokee Strip cantonment, estimated their number at 4,000. The negroes who herded together at Cimarron—and from whom, by the way, trouble is expected—will number about aftern hundred, and there were not less than 7,500 persons scattered through the Wichita Reservation. These, of course, were the larger crowds. Thou how the territory, on all sides of the land to be opened were innumerable smaller parties, ranging in strength from ten to two hundred persons, and banded together by some community of interest or by agreement to protect one another's rights in the event of disputes over claims. Many of these associations were formed, the members being pledged to assist their comrades with money or at the muzzle of the Winchester, if necessary.

Making allowances for all these scattered organizations and taking the known figures of the larger cannon sounded the signal at noon to-day.

All through the forenoon the preparations continued. Along the eastern border the crowds were largest, but on the south and north there were largest, but on the south and north there were largest, but on the south and north there were largest, but on the south and north there were largest, but on the south and north there were largest, but on the south and north there were largest, but on the south and north there were largest, but on the south and north there were largest, but on the south and north there were largest and the south and north there were largest to the south and north there were largest.

Every man seemed to know just where he was going and headed for his longed for land without even bestowning a glance of atte line and many will be left in the guileys this afternoon, but there were no serious accidents.

A large number of El Reno people made the run for the quarter-sections. a few miles out of town, which were left unalloted, right on the Rock Island road.

A special trainover the Choctaw road from Okiahoma City dumped its load at the Rock Island crossing a few moments after 12 o'clock. A crowd from El Reno City, which had a town organization all complete, also reached the land at the Same time, and the site was black with men within half an hour after the opening.

The greatest crowd, particularly of horsemen, was at the points nearest to Watanga and Rossmore forty. Three different crowds were organized yesterday for the purpose of taking charge of the town organization of Rossmore. One of these is made up principally of Texas men and one largely of men from Kansas. All three of these will a probably attempt to organize as soon as they reach there. The officers at the different town sites, however, will discourage any town organization before to-morrow.

NOT A GARDEN OF EDEN.

The Cheyenne and Anpaboe reservation where 30,000 citizens of the United States found new homes to-day is situated in the Indian Territory, between the Cherokee outleton the north and the Klowa, Comanche and Apache reservation on the south. Its eastern border adjoins Okiahoma and its western the Pan Handle of Texas.

Its area is much greater than it is generally understood to be. It would make two Okiahomas or five khode Islands, while the whole States of Connecticut and Rhode Finand could be set down in it and there would still remain room for four will be accounted the second of the 3,356 abortines 140 acres. There was thus left for general settlement about 5,500,000 acres, which, allowing a quarter section, or 160 acres, to each homesweker, would accommodate about 2,000 settlers outside of the town sites. Very few of the thoa-sands who have been waiting for weeks at the border and in the frontier towns for today's final rush had anything but the vaguest idea as to the real character of the land they were so anxious to possess. Exagerated reports of the wondrous fertility of the land were readily believed and were not easily contradicted, for only very few people had that intimate knowledge of the country upon which to base successful contradiction. So when the rush was made to day the boomers believed they were entering into a veritable Garden of Eden. When they had reached their claims, had staked them off and had taken the opportunity to survey their broad acres, they found that instead of a Garden of Eden, a promised land flowing with milk and honey as they had foundly believed, they had really possessed them selves of a section of very ordinary western prairie land, flowing with milk and honey as they had foundly believed, they had really possessed them selves of a section of very brackish streams, bitter with allong the river bottoms and that in the valleys, is excellent farming lands, but the law is excellent vantage of the next gift of land by the government.

The Cimarron River runs across the northeast corner of the new country. South of it is the north fork of the Canadian, and still further south is the Washita. The bottom land along these rivers has been all, or mostly all, taken up by the Indians. These bottoms are not very wide, and the land on both sides of them rises very rapidly late grassy plateaus. Over the divides the lands become level prairies, poorly watered, similar to much of Western Kansas. Between the two branches of the Canadian the land is rather rough, but much of it is good for farming. The Canadian forks are neither of them very reliable. The north branch, the Indians say, runs dry about once in five years, while there are times every year when the South Canadian is nothing but a long chain of brackish mucholes. The greatest trouble the settlers will encounter in raising crops in this Canadian country will be from drouth. Those familiar with the country say the settlers will be fortunate if they raise one crop in three.

The best and richest part of the new country is along the valley of the Washita River in County H. The Washita is a smaller stream than the Canadian rivers, but it never goes dry and its valley is always green. There is also some very fine country along Deer Creek, which flows through County H, and empties into the South Canadian in the Wichita Reservation. The land in County E, the northwestern county, is a part of the great Western desert. It is a waste of land and is hardly fit to pasture goats on.

ita Reservation. The land in County E, the northwestern county, is a part of the great Western desert. It is a waste of land and is hardly fit to pasture goats on.

A very good estimate can be formed of the desirability of the land in the different counties from the number of Indian allotments in each, for the land in the different counties from the number of Indian allotments in each, for the lands have undoubedly sought for the best lands. In Kinglisher County 195 allotments have been made; in Canadian County, 542; in County E, so; in County G, 435; in County H, 829; in County E, sone.

THE NEW SETTLERS.

The settlers, as observed in the towns while waiting to pass to the border and on their way thither, appeared to be, as a rule, thrifty, energetic and determined to wrest from the stubborn soil a better living than they had been able to gain in their old homes. Of course, there were numbers of shiftless people, careless of the future, who joined the rush out of the excitement of the thing; others who were drawn to the lands in the hope of profitting by speculation, and still others who "got left" at the opening of the lows, Sax and Fox, Kickapoo and Fottawotomie lands last year made another attempt to secure homes. The scarcity of the negro is one of the surprising things of the occupancy of the new lands, taken in connection with the numerous reports of the formation of the negro colonies and their Journeyings toward the lands. An estimate by a newspaper man, who has ridden around the whole border during the past week, places the proportion of negroes to the whole number of settlers at only 16 per cent. It was confidently expected that they would comprise fully half of the homeseekers. The greater part of the negro settlers gathered at Langston and Cimarron, the negro towns that were organized on the eastern reservations a year ago. From those two towns they proceeded, most of them, on foot to eastern and southern boundaries of the Cheyenne country, where they all settled as near to one another as possible Texas. There was no organization among the latter and they took up claims independent of each other much after the manner of their white brethren.

Indifference is not the only cause of the Indians, want of surprise at the invasion of their lands. They have the promise of the Messiah that the white men shall be swept from the earth and that the Indian shall be restored to his former domination. They have been engaged in ghost dances for a month past and many of their wise old men have had visions and have conveyed to their tribes the Messian's promise. They were at first surprised that the Messiah should allow the preparation for the invasion to proceed, but when Chief Left Hand received the revelation to the effect that the destruction of the whites was delayed only for a short time their surprise gave way to an abiding faith in the ultimate extinction of their natural enemy.

"He will come "they say. "He will come."

their surprise gave way to an abiding faith in the ultimate extinction of their natural enemy.

"He will come," they say. "He will come when the grass grows tail and the sun grows hot. He will come and drive the white man from the Indians' country."

In the meantime the savages will make no effort at civilizing themselves. They will eat the Government's rations and will await passively and hopefully the Messlah's coming and their restoration to their lost possessions. They will not work. They are not permitted to sell their lands for twenty-five years, but they can lease it for three years, and that is what most of them will do.

There is another class of the Indians, however, who have absorbed something of the nature of the white man. This was a great day for him. Everything he possessed was salable. His pony, his gun and his knowledge of the country were all articles of value and to-day he bartered them all for a consideration. He was a bureau of information, a guide and a horse trader. It is not able that those who employed Indian guides secured choice claims, so well did the Indians know their location and the shortest and least difficult routes to them.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

GUTHRIE, O. T., April 19.—Dispatches from all along the line of the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Reservation report that the start for the newly opened territory was effected promptly at noon without any trouble. There were some trifling accidents owing to horses stumbling and the breaking down of vehicles in the heavy ground, but no fights or disturbances have been reported so far.

DETAILS OF MILITIA HELD READY TO REPRESS DISORDER.

Several Collisions Reported-A Heavy Vote Polled-Kansas Democrats to a Man Favor Cleveland's Nomination-Comptroller Matthews Supporting Fifer-Political Drift.

New Orleans, La., April 19 .- The great four-sided political battle in the State of Louisiana between two factions of the Democratic party and two wings of the Republican party, has reached its climax in to-day's general election. The third party are also in the field, but will receive only scant notice. Accordingly there are five State tickets in the field-McEnery (Dem.), Foster (Dem.), Breaux (Rep.), Leonard (Rep.) and Tannehill (third party). The election is for all the State officers, District, Parish and local New Orleans. All ballots printed are against the lottery amendment. A vigorous fight will be made on the Legislature, which may have to count the vote to determine the results if charges of fraud are made.

The weather is warm and cloudy. The polls opened throughout the State and city, with no disturbances. An hour later a dimiculty arose at the First Precinct of the Fifth ward, where a heated contest is going on.
The row was between a Foster and a McEnery supporter. Pistols were drawn, but shooting was prevented. No special officers have been sworn, but Maj. Glynn of the State Militia has details of troops at the different arsenals as a means of precaution. State officers this morning say the soldiers will not be ordered out except if a serious difficulty occurs.

The killing of John E. Madden in Claiborne Parish by Marshal Lewis yesterday in a dispute over politics in a parish strongly favoring Foster, created a feeling of uneasiness throughout the State.

Indications are that fully 90 per cent of the fifty thousand registered voters will exercise their rights. A heavy negro vote is being cast in the State.

A FRIENDLY UNDERSTANDING. WASHINGTON, April 19 .- It may now be stated positively that there is a friendly understanding between Senator Gorman and Mr. Cleveland. Mr. Gorman will not try to prevent Mr. Cleveland's nomination, but, on the other hand, if the trend of events shows that Mr. Cleveland's nomination will be out of the question, it is probable that a good share-of Cleveland's following will go to Mr. Gorman, by and with the advice and consent of Mr. Cleveland hymself.

MISSOURI CONVENTION WEST PLAINS, Mo., April 19 .- The Howell County Republicans have elected the following delegates to the State Convention: A. B.

He seems to be afraid to open his mouth to any cutside about the St. Louis Internal Revenue Collect orship. To those people whom he told considerable about it when he was last here he now says he don't know of an such case. Evidently Secretary Elkins has summoned Kerens here, for things have beer going Noble's way. Kerens is said to hay told the President that if Schuarte is not appointed he will have to depend upor Noble for the Missouri delegation to the Minneapolis Convention, which is very apt to bring the President to time, for the President does not expect much in a political way from Noble. He says that Wannamaker and Noblare two about as poor politicians as could be made.

PRELIMINARY TRIAL TO-DAY BEFORE A BRITISH MAGISTRATE.

A Defenseless Woman's Battle Rascal-Train Robber Perry a Terror to His Keepers-Incendiarism Rife at San Antonio-A Baltimore Residence Dynamited-Oriminal News.

LONDON, April 19.-A tremendous sensation has been caused by the accusation against the Hon. Patrick Emilius John Greville Nugent bother of Baron Greville, and Deputy Lieu tenant and High Sheriff of the County of Westmeath, Ireland, of having indecently saulted a lady in a first-class carriage on

The lady in the case is Miss Marion Price The evidence at the Westminster Police Court to-day was of a very strong character against the defendant, who, if the story told not only by Miss Price herself, but by the guard, is true, deliberately pursued the woman and changed carriages for purpose of gratifying his villain-passion. The public present in court to-day noticed that the Hon. Patrick court to-day noticed that the Hon. Hatrick was granted the special privilege, never accorded to poor and plebelan offenders, of occupying a reserved seat with his counsel. Lady Greville Nugent, his wife, was also present, and while she seemed deeply touched by the proceedings, she gave an occasional glance at her husband which seemed to make him shrink and look both frightened and ashared.

The guard declared that Nugent engaged carriages at Hayward's Heath, and entered the compartment in which Miss Price was sitting alone. The guard knew of no cause why the accused should have changed his com-partment, unless it was on account of Miss Price. The story told by Miss Price of what had occurred after the Hon. Patrick had entered her compartment, is as follows:

"The prisoner came into the compartment, and soon after the train started he began to speak to me. I did not wish to enter into any conversation with him, and I answered him very briefly. This did not seem to discourage him. He addressed me in endearing terms, and coming close to where I was sitting, he attempted to kiss me. I tried to push him away, but he succeeded in kissing me, although I appealed to him as a gentlaman to let me alone. He tried to embrace me, and I . He tried to embrace me, and screamed as loud as I could for help, at the same time trying to get away from him. He held onto me, and I struggled as hard as I could, while he tried by brutal force to keep me down. I succeeded in reaching the communication cord and pulled it. As I reached the cord the prisoner made a more determined effort to pull me back. In the struggle the front and back of my dress was torn. When the train came to a standstill I changed into another compartment."

The story of Miss Price was corroborated by the condition of her dress worn on the occasion, which showed rents both in the front and back. The guard stated that when the train was stopped and Miss Price stepped out he, the guard, asked the prisoner what he had been doing.

Greville Nugent replied that he had been down. I succeeded in reaching the commu out he, the guard, asked the prisoner what he had been doing.

Greville Nugent replied that he had been doing nothing and that he did not know who pulled the cord. The guard asked him his name and he declined to give it. He was put under arrest upon the arrival of the train. When charged at the police station and confronted with the girl the prisoner still refused to give his name and the police had some trouble in ascertaining who he was.

The hearing of the case occupied about two hours. The counsel for Greville Nugent suggested that it was a case of blackmail. The magistrate said: "There is no evidence whatever to show that it was."

Ball was required from the defendant in the sum of £400 for further appearance and was promptly furnished.

FIRE BUGS WARNED.

POPULAR INDIGNATION AROUSED BY INCENDIAR-

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 19 .- Popular alarm and indignation were aroused by the prevailing incendiarism which resulted in three disastrous fires Saturday night and rous efforts to fire buildings in different parts of the city. A mass meeting of citizens is held this forenoon on Main Plaza for the purpose of taking action. Thousands were in attendance. Wm. Ferguson, editor of the Daily Democrat, which has been burned out for the second time, presided and made a brief and earnest address full of significance to the fire bugs. Committees were then appointed to co-operate with the officers, organize a citizens' patrol and raise money for employing special detectives to ferret out the ganize a citizens' patrol and raise money for employing special detectives to ferret out the offenders. Last night 500 volunteers were assisting the police to pairol the city and notwithstanding this precaution, at 9 o'clock a second attempt was made to fire the Kettula residence on Avenue C. Much excitement exists, and if the firebugs are detected they will hardly be saved for trial.

ANXIETY.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 19.—Oliver Curtis Perry, the train-robber, is causing his keepers no end of trouble. Since his attempts to escape on March 12 he has been confined closely in his cell except for a short time daily. His confinement has made him savdaily. His confinement has made him savage, and he has made several attempts to kill or injure Deputy Collins, who arrested him. He has made a collection of crockery, which he has retained when food has been sent to him, and he has thrown cups at Mr. Collins on several occasions. Yesterday morning he attempted to empty a bucket of slop over Deputy Collins, when the officer drew his revolver and threatened to shoot if Perry threw the slop. Perry desisted. The jail officials believe that he still has possession of a strong knife, which he made from a piece of one of the steel slats of his bed.

pathetic scene was witnessed in the Court of Appeals to-day in the Grim habeas corpus case, in which Dr. Elmore E. Grim of nnati is seeking to obtain possession of his 2-year-old son, Pursell Elwood Grim, who is in possession of the child's mother, Mrs. Emily Grim, who is living with her father, J. T. Morgan, superintendent of the Deering Agricultural Works in East St. Louis, and who resides at 2800 Locust street. Mrs. Grim, who is a young woman, in fact, a mere schoolgirl in appearance, was in the courtroom before the court opened and had the baby. She was accompanied by her brother, F. E. Morgan, and some lady friends. Dr. Grim, who is also of a youthful appearance, quite dressy alay friends. Dr. Grim, who is also of a youthful appearance, quite dressy and wearing glasses entered, and seeing the baby which was held by one of the ladies, rushed over and embraced and kissed it. The little one recognized him and prattled, and the father burst into tears, and going to a distant corner of the court-room sat down and wept bitterly. Returning to where the child was kept he took it and sitting at the window looked out at the cars and listened to the little one's prattle about them.

After the Court had handed down a batch of opinions and dispatched some routine business the case was taken up. Grim's attorney read the petition in the case, and Attorney W. E. Mills for the defense read the return, which set forth that while the Grims were living at Springfield, O., Mrs. Grim received her support in the main from her parents, as Dr. Grim either would not or could not provide means for paying board and clothing his wife. While living at Cincinnati, it is alleged Mrs. Grim received support from her parents and brother. It was further alleged that Dr. Grim threatened his wife with violence.

The court remanded the child to the custody of the mother with permission by the father to visit it twice a week. Mills stated to the court that he would file a suit for divorce within twenty-four hours.

In the latter case the opinion sets forth that the indictment contained three counts, charging the defendant as a druggist and as a pharmacist with the sale of liquors without a dramshop license.

"The evidence introduced by the State," the opinion reads, "tended to prove that the defendant was a druggist and registered pharmacist, and at or about the time stated in the several counts he sold to one Roberts intoxicating liquors without a written prescription. The jury was instructed only as to the law governing the sale of intoxicants by druggists and pharmacists. No attempt was made to convict the defendant under the last count. It seems to have been ignored by both court and counsel. The jury failed to specify in the verdict on which count the conviction (was had. The first and second counts in the indictment are fatally defective because each failed to state to whom the liquor was sold. The fact that there was one good count in the indictment cannot aid the judgment for the reason that the evidence and instructions were directed to the first and second counts only, making the conclusion unavoidable that the conviction was had under one or the other of these-counts. We must therefore reverse the judgment."

All of the judges concur in both opinions. In the instruct case the defendant was charged with selling liquor as a druggist and pharmacist with the prescription of a duly registered physician, The lindictments were procured in both cases in ...2702 Spring av .1902 Coleman stJefferson and Cass avs

Easter Entertainments at the Local The The performance of the Charles Frohman Comedy Co. at the Olympic is "for laughter only," out it is gratifying to be able to use the line not as a cover for a multitude of dramatic offenses, but in description of a genuine and successful effort to provide light and clever entertainment for the public. The germ idea of "Jane," the comedy presented by Mr. Frohman's excellent organization, has furnished the basis for several dramatic efforts, out up to date it is incomparably the best. While possessing all of the improbability of the comedy of complication it is ingeniously constructed, with a skilfull development of the humorous possibilities of situation. Both laughable situations and amusing incongruities are utilized for comedy purposes with entertaining results. The impecuatious young man, shakleton, who must have a wife to keep in the good graces of his guardian, Kershaw, takes his maid servant, Jane, who has just married his man servant, William, for the purpose, and to maintain the deception, she borrows a baby from a virago cousin. This mixing of elements, although broadening the humor, adds to its effectiveness.

But in conjunction with a clever comedy is a clever company, and not less contributory to the entertainment than the play is the convincing and humorous performance. The shining merit of this performance is the fact that the characters for the most part are played with a genuine sense of humor and not in the puppet style which so often mars rattling farce. Johnstone Bennett gives a charming impersonation of "Jane" in which the incongruity of the maid playing the part of the mistress, is amusingly suggested. She brings out the humor of the part artistically and effectively. Paul Arthur develops the careless and reckless Shakleton with excellent effect, and the humor in Mr. Kershaw is finely brought out by M. C. Daly. An excellent piece of work is the William of R. F. Colton, while Maggie Fisher, Katherine Grey and others in the cast were thoroughly satisfactory. "Ship Ahoy," the new production of Grattan Donneily and Fred Miller, Jr., which is at the Grand this week, is described as a nautical operetta. This is as good as any other descriptive term to describe the jumble of reminiscent jmusic, gags and horse play of which it is made up.

The old songs and the old jokes are well represented in the score and book. The music has a pleasant jingle and the jokes find appreciative listeners. The story concerns a stranded opera company, which, among many other vicistitudes, get aboard a manof-war and into Fortress Monroe. The theme also has a reminiscent flavor, and the character of the comic opera manager in burlesque which has been worn threadbare is not given much new light by Mr. Donnelly, who labors rather wearlsomely with the comic muse. The company contains some good material and the performance has pleasing points, but it also has weak spots. Musically, the organization is not strong, Louise Montague has dashing qualities and as the prima donna puts vim into her work. She uses her voice to best advantage, but her serious vocal efforts would be more pleasing if she would avoid the affectations of operatic singing. If she intends to give the suggestion of burlesque she is all right, but otherwise they mar the effect.

Among others in the cast are James E. Sulvan, who gives a grotesque impersonation Among others in the cast are James E. Sul-

Among others in the cast are sames z. Sulivan, who gives a grotesque impersonation of the opera manager, Harry Bell, Florence Dunbar, Jesse Jenkins and others.

THE HAGAN—LILLIAN LEWIS.

Lillian Lewis, in Lawrence Marston's play, "Credit Lorraine," supported by Edmund Collier and a strong company, is having a good engagement at the Hagan this week. The story of "Credit Lorraine" is one of mingled intrigue, speculation and love, in the brilliantly empty reign of Louis Napoleon, and all its scenes are laid in Paris. In the part of Lenora di Castiglioni, a beautiful spanish adventuress and favorite of the Emperor, Miss Lewis has a striking and picturesque character, and Lenora's love for Phillippe Rameau, the Republican, (Edmund Collier) her hatred for and final assassination of Count de Susinion, the Minister of Police (Frank Peters), and her own death, make it a tragic part of considerable power. With these opportunities Miss Lewis does most creditable work and has scored a success in her present engagement. A novel bit is made by Frederick Marie in the

POPE'S—"A PAIR OF KIDS."

At Pope's Ezra Kendall in his farce-comedy, "A Pair of Kids," is drawing good houses. HAYLIN'S-"THE CRUISKEEN LAWN."
Dan McCarthy in the pretty Irish play, "The Cruiksheen Lawn," is having big houses at Haylin's. The story of the "Cruikskeen Lawn" is about the average of the Irish romantic drama of late years, and in the character of Dublin Dan, its hero, McCarthy has opportunities for winning the favor of his audiences which he does not neglect. The supporting company is equal to the demands of the cast, and the play has many scenic effects of considerable beauty. Thursday and Saturday matinees,

THE CONNER MEMORIAL BENEFIT.

The memorial benefit for the widow of the late Capt. Wm. M. Conner promises to be one of the most notable events of the kind which has occurred within recent years.

This should be especially gratifying to St. Louisans for two reasons. One is because Capt. Conner was a St. Louisan, and the other is because it was in this city that the movement for the benefit had its inception. It was started by Manager John W. Norton of the Grand Operahouse and it was chiefly through his efforts during his recent visit to New York that the plans were perfected upon a basis which guarantees its success. The Benefit Committee, of which Col. John A. Cockerill is Chairman, embraces nearly every manager guarantees its success. The Benefit Committee, of which Col. Jobn A. Cockerill is Chairman, embraces nearly every manager of note in New York City. The Metropolitan Opera-house has been secured for May 12, and the services of members of the dramatic profession have been volunteered to an extent which assures a splendid entertainment.

Capt. Conner was for years been connected with the dramatic profession, and Mrs. Conner flied an honorable place on the stage. No more generous man than Capt. Conner ever lived. No appeal made to him was resused, and when he had money it belonged to anyone who needed it. The misfortune which overtook him during the last years of his life swept away all he had and his widow and daughter are left without means of support. The St. Louis friends of the family are desirous that his native city shall do a full share towards this memorial. Manager Norton is the treasurer of the committee and will receive all funds which should be addressed to him at 1215 Broadway. New York City.

AFFLECK'S STATEMENT.

Affleck occupies cell No. 5 of the calaboose at the Four Courts. He is a little man in stature, but well built, and there is a look of determination in his face that marks him as a hard man to handle when under the influence of liquor. He has a heavy black mustache, is rather neatly dressed, and his conversation and manners indicate that he has received a pretty good education and has had the advantage of good society. When called by Officer Grady this morning Affleck got up from the bench on which he was sitting and limped out into the corridor, where he told the story of his encounter with the private watchman or as much of it as he seemed able to recoilect. He was still suffering from the effects of the liquor he had taken aboard the night before, as also from the clubbing he got. His head was in bandages, and his white shirt front was still wet with his blood. Asked if his lameness was due to his encounter with Walsh, he answered that it was not. He had hurt one of his legs while at work yesterday afternoon at the Fairbank Soap Factory on Third and Convent streets. He was a millwright and had been working there about three weeks. He claimed to remember very little about what he did last night.

"I was at the Winter Garden quife a while," he said, "and then went to a saloon on Sixth and Clark avenue. I had a number of drinks in me and concluded to go home. I went down Market or Walnut street to Fourth to get a car, when I met a friend of mine named Charley, and we made the rounds of the saloons together. I've no recollection at all where we went, but were in several saloons. We finally separated but I don't know where or when. The next thing I recall was my meeting with this man I had a fuss with. I didn't know that he was an private watchman and don't remember whether I spoke to him first or not. I only remember that he was an involved and my rety sure that I had been c

He was under the impression that his wounds were sewed up in a doctor's office near where the affray took place, and said he had no recollection of riding in a wagon until after he had left the doctor's hands.

His kniie was an ordinary pocket knife, he said, but the big blade was very sharp. He had sharpened it only a few days ago to cut belts with. As a millwright he had a good, deal of belt mending to do and carried a sharp knife for that reason. He never carried a pistoi or other weapon and never used his knife on any body before.

"Were you ever arrested before?"

WATCHMAN WALSH'S STATEMENT.

Walsh was seen at his home, 3850 St. Ferdicand avenue, this morning. He was in bed and appeared to be resting easy. The clothes which he had worn last night hung on the Ioot of the bed and were covered with blood. He says that he is weak from loss of blood, but does not complain of any trouble from his wounds. His story of the affair is as follows:

"About 4 o'clock this morning I left the opera-house to go home. I had just lighted a cigar and was walking slowly away when a man rushed up to me and grabbing me by the shoulder said: 'You are the man I'm looking for.' I asked him what was the matter with him and he wanted to know if I could not do anything for a man who was hurt. 'Let go of me,' I said, and when he tightened his grip I hit him over the arm with my cane. Then he drew his knife and made a pass at me. I grappled with him and threw him down and was cut in the scuffle. A policeman then came up and arrested the man and took us in the wagon to the Dispensary, after which I was conveyed home.' Walsh says he does not know the fellow, but thinks he is some fellow he has ejected from the gallery in the theater. He denies that the man was drunk when he cut him. Walsh sat up in bed during the interview. He is a very strong man and may pull through.

The Second Annual Meeting of Military Surgeons.

It Opens in Memorial Hall With Appropriate Ceremonies.

THE GOVERNOR, THE MAYOR AND OTHERS WELCOME THE DELEGATES.

An Address of Welcome and Co-Operation Also Read by Col. Greenleaf of the Regular Army-President Senn's Recommendations to the Association-Importance of National Guard Medical Organization-The Afternoon Session and To-Night's Reception.

Shortly before 11 o'clock this morning the econd annual meeting of the Association of illitary Surgeons of the National Guard of the United States was called to order for its spring session in Memorial Hall, Nineteenth and Lucas Place, by Second Vice-President Eustathius Chancellor, Lieutenant-Colonel National Guard of Missouri. The tiered amphitheater of the beautiful hall was filled with iniformed men, the green, blue and gold of the military surgeon's fatigue array making a brilliant picture. The stage at the northern end of the hall was festooned with the national colors, forming an arch over its center, with flags trailed from the les. Just above the keystone of this arch of bright colored bunting was the official badge of the association, its red cross, national shield and shoulder straps making a most striking effect. When the delegates to the meeting began to arrive in squads at Memorial Hall from their various hotels and stopping places they found everything completed for their reception. At a little table in the for their reception. At a little table in the corridor, facing the entrance, sat Surgeons J. T. Hereford, John B. Keber, Ohman-Dumesnii and J. W. Reber, these gentlemen having charge of the official register in which delegates were requested to write their names, titles and address promptly upon reaching the spot. The request was compiled with and the official register show the following distinguished list of prompt attendants upon the spring session: Maj. C. F. W. Myers, Surgeon N. G. N. J.; Francis J. Crane, Colonel and Surgeon-General N. G. of Colorado; Maj. L. C. Carr, Surgeon N. G. O.; Nicholas Senn, Brig-idler-General and Surgeon-General N. Byers, Surgeon, Wisconsin National Guard; Lieut. ol. E. Chancellor, N. G. Mo.; Gen. J. D. Griffith, Surgeon-General, N. G. Mo., and Griffith, Surgeon-General, N. G. Mo., and many others. At the moment of the opening of the morning session the hali was filled from the bottom to the top tier of seats arranged in a semi-circle, while on the stage were gathered the officers of the association, the speakers of the day and other celebrities of the occasion. There were also many ladies present in the audience, and a number of local physicians not connected with the National Guard, their attendance having been especially requested by the association.

Just before 11 o'clock Lieut. Col. Eustathus Chancellor stepped to the front of the stage and rapped the convention to order.
"The second annual meeting of the Military Surgeons of the National Guards of the United States will be opened by prayer from Rev. John Snyder."

I am glad to welcome you in both capacitacy to the City of St. Louis and the State of Missouri."

The speaker then reviewed the objects of the Association of Military Surgeons and closed with a renewed cordial welcome to the delegates present.

Dr. T. F. Prewitt was then introduced to speak in behalf of the medical profession of the State in welcoming the military surgeons to the city of St. Louis. Dr. Prewitt was received with great enthusiasm and said:

DR. PREWITT'S ADDRESS.

"Gentlemen of the Association of Military Surgeons of the National Guard—As President of the State Medical Society of Missouri it is a great pleasure to me to welcome you brother members of the medical profession to St. Louis. And I do so not with the feeling that you are strangers to this city or to its medical citizenship.

"The profession of medicine recognizes no limitations of place in its brotherhood. Wherever one physician goes, there he is at home when he meets a brother physician, and it is with that spirit I welcome you to our city. The value of the military organization of surgeons cannot be overestimated. As long as nations go to war; as long, indeed, as the millenium is postponed, there will be the necessity for military surgeons. And I wish you all the heartlest welcome, both as members of the medical profession and as surgeons of the Mational Guard, and I extend to you also my heartlest wishes for the success of your meeting."

You have not sent us thousands of visitors, you have not thronged our hotels or our streets. It may be that your presence here will not be noted; that the masses of our people may not know you are in our midst. But with the importance of your profession and organization in view, I wish you all a cordial and hearty welcome."

the Association of Military Surgeons of the National Guard. The speaker then read a paper treating of the necessity of the National Guard surgeons familiarizing themselves with their duties in the field. This was a duty of the utmost importance and one that the surgeons of the regular army there were watching with the greatest interest. The paper stated that two especially necessary things were practice in the camps of instruction, and the establishment of officer's schools of instructions. Only by close study in these schools could the military surgeons of the National Guard properly fit themselves for their military duty. The study and establishment of ambulance services was also urged by the speaker, who stated the special points would be made to the streat World's Familitary gathering of 1888.

Lieut. Angelo Festorazzi, N. G. of Alabama, then spooke in behalf of the association, thanking the preceding speakers for the warm and friendly welcome to the association extended to them. The speaker also returned special thanks to the people of the regular army who had Just concluded, and paid a high tribute to the paper read by that gentleman. He then reviewed the work accomplished by the 3-year-old organization of military surgeons of the National Guard and spoke of the great work still to be done. The speaker also alluded to the heroic work of military surgeons in the field, and said that the profession was as noble as any that could be named. THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

The President of the association, Gen. Nicholas Senn, National Guard Wisconsin, was then introduced and was received with great applause. Gen. Senn delivered a quiet but telling address, in which he reviewed the growth of the United States as a nation and pointed out the importance and value to such a nation of its National Guard, and the value to the National Guard of a well organized association of military surgeons. With a standing army of only 25,000 men the National Guard of the country must be looked to for the real military defense of the country. And the citzen-soldiery had frequently shown their bravery and efficiency in trying moments. Of these State troops the medical department was a most important one, and of the 100,000 national guardsmen now enrolled in the various States there were 500 enrolled surgeons. It was important that these 500 surgeons should so fit hemselves for their duties as to command that respect from line officers which they do not always command at present. The general government was doing everything to encourage the military surgeons of the national guard, and it depended alone upon this eral government was doing everything to encourage the military surgeons of the national guard, and it depended alone upon this association to improve by it. The speaker then treated what he designated as the important steps to be taken in the near future, urging especially the organization of associations in each State, the study of campassistant of the state of the state of the study of campassistant of the state of luture, urging especially the organization of associations in each State, the study of campsanitation, litter-drill, ambulance-service, etc. He also urged advantages of competitive examination for appointment to posts as surgeons of the National Guard. This should be under charge of a Board of Examiners appointed from the Medical Board of the local National Guard. Such a system would greatly elevate the standing of the National Guard Medical Corps.

The duties of camp life and of medical service in the field were next treated. Then the question of uniforms was taken up and the speaker urged the adoption of the uniform of surgeons of the regular army. The change in the practice of field surgeons, brought about by the great change in fire-arms and other weapons of late years, also came in for attention. Then the orator urged the establishment of a national military medical college on the same idea as that of West Point for the instruction of officers, and also urged that such a national college for the regular army should be established either in St. Louis or Chicago. An International Association of Military Surgeons to hold its first meeting during the World's Fair in Chicago in 1838 was urged, and then the speaker closed with congratulations on the rapid growth of the association. the speaker closed with congratulations on the rapid growth of the association. In the regular order of business, Col. Chancellor their read the report of the Committee of Arrangements, detailing the plan of entertainment arranged for the delegates during their stay in St. Louis, which has already been published with the exception of a reception tendered the delegates by Dr. A. C. Bernays on Thursday, and a banquet at the University Club on Wednesday, extended by Capt. Chas, B. Ewing, United States Army.

The report of the Committee on Registration and of other committees was then read, and at 1 o'clock the meeting adjourned until 2:30 o'clock.

Surgeons of the National Guards of the United States will be opened by prayer from Rev. John Snyder."

The reverend gentleman' named who is chaplain of the First Regiment N. G. M. then arose and invoked a blessing upon the deliberations of the meeting of men whose mission in life was to do good and relieve suffering.

At the conclusion of the opening prayer Gov. D. R. Francis was introduced to deliver the address of welcome on behalf of the Missouri National Guard. The speaker was received with prolonged-applause. He said:

"Lanies and Gentleman—As Commander in Chief of the National Guard of Missouri I am glad to be able to welcome to St. Louis the Association, and the organization known as the National Guard of the United States. The National Guard of the Country has been organized and maintained in the face of great difficulties and with innumerable obstacles constantly rising in its way. Especially in St. Louis has this been the case during the nineteen or twenty years of the existence of its National Guard. But you, gentlemen, represent not only the National Guard, but also the medical profession, and among your membership are gentlemen, represent not only the National Guard, but also the medical profession, and among your membership are gentlemen, represent not only the National Guard, but also the medical profession on both sides of the Atlantic. I am glad to welcome you in both capacities to the City of St. Louis and the State of Missouri."

The speaker then reviewed the objects of the Association of Military Surgeons and the State of Missouri. The Speaker then reviewed the objects of the Association of Military Surgeons and Missouri. An Increase in the Demand for Money Banking Funds.

There has been a decided increase in activi There has been a decided increase in activity in the local stock market during the past week. For over two months past little has been doing, owing to the stagnant state of the New York market, and also owing to the fact that St. Louis holders have not been obliged to sell. An attempt at a bear raid, inaugurated late last week in New York, showed the strength of the St. Louis market. Some stock came here from Chicago and Kansas City, and was instantly purchased, and an advance in price has already yielded the St. Louis investors a good profit. The banks, while their loans are larger than usual, have more money on hand than is common at this season of the year, as deposits run far above the usual amount. Cash can be obtained in large amounts at low linterest from the local banks, but while the increase in discounts is not proportionate to the increase in deposits, it is sufficient to yield a landsome profit. The easilness of money is not due to any falling off in the volume of business, but to the large additions made to the floating capital of the city.

The stagnation of stock speculation has cut off the borrowing demand in this direction, but the recent revival has caused an in-

promise would probably be effected within an hour. Another case was called, and while a jury was being impaneled to try it, the lawyers of both parties and Mr. Gaines held a long whispered consultation in the hall out-side the court-room.

Shortly after 11 the lawyers appeared without Mr. Gaines, but with Mrs. Gaines, her sister and her father. Mr. Broadhead her sister and her father. Mr. Broadhead interrupted the case on trial to inform the court that he wished to withdraw all depositions, the cross bill and evidence introduced in the case by Mr. Gaines with the exception of the depositions showing his pecuniary ability. Mr. Dyer entered his consent and Judge Withrow, after learning that a decision was wanted, said:

aiter learning that a decision was wanted, said:

JUDGE WITHROW'S REMARKS.

"If the answer and depositions and cross bill are withdrawn and the court is asked to decide on the evidence remaining, which is all in favor of the plaintiff, the court thinks a prima facia case has been made out by the plaintiff. I will therefore grant Mrs. Gaines a decree of divorce, award her the custody of the minor child, and allow her $50 a month alimony until the court sees fit to change it. Mr. Gaines, the husband, and father of the child, will be permitted to see the child at frequent intervals. The time of these visits may be agreed upon by the parties interested."

Mrs. Gaines' face beamed with happy smiles, and she left the building with her attorney apparently very well pleased. Mr. Dyer remarked after the settlement of the case that he granted not an inch in the compromise. All concessions were made by the husband and the withdrawal of his cross-bill in which he made insinuations against his wife's conduct was to be taken as proof that they were false and could not be supported if brought out in the course of the trial.

Attorneys Dyer and Broadhead agreed to draw up a form of decree satisfactory to both parties and left the court room.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE CASE.

Mrs. Gaines has been granted a decree on her allegations of incompatibility and indignities suffered at the hands of her husband. She is the daughter of Capt. A. G. Evans, formerly a stock dealer in this city, and was married here to Col. Gaines in 1883. Soon after the marriage they went to live in Texas. She lived there until 1888, when she returned to St. Louis to live with her father. She took her child with her. Some months later Mr. Gaines came here and abducted the child from the Lindell Hotel. He took the boy to his home in Texas and Mrs. Gaines followed. She succeeded in regaining possession of her child and has had the custody of him ever since.

Mr. Gaines, in his cross-bill and answer, made insinuations against his wife and her conduct at the hotel in El Paso, where they were boarding, buthe made no direct charges against her character, and the depositions read in her behalf did not bear out the inferences in his cross-bill. It is understood he will return to Texas soon and make periodical visits to the city to see his child.

The members of the North End Eleventh Vard Progressive Association in South St. Louis are getting ready to fight for the re moval of Pickett's Cemetery, which is located on Arsenal street, three blocks east f Grand avenue. The graveyard occupies about four blocks of ground in one of about four blocks of ground in one of the most flourishing dwelling sections of the South End and the tax-payers complain that it is a serious obstacle in the way or progression in that part of the city. The cemetery is one of the first that was laid out in St. Louis and has been a resting-place for the dead for over ninety years. The neighborhood has been compactly built up around on all sides of it and the residents complain that it is depreciating real estate values in the yielnity. A petition residents complain that it is depreciating real estate values in the vicinity. A petition signed by hearly two hundred taxpayers asking for its condemnation will be presented to the Board of Health, and then the Board of Public Improvements will be petitioned to open up new streets after its removal. The association is also getting up a petition to have an engine-house established in the ward. A public mass meeting will shortly be held by the association to take action in reference to a number of improvements that have long been needed in South St. Louis.

gun in the hands of one of the members of the visiting Baltimore Rifles was fired, and for a few moments a small sized riot seemed imminent, because of the efforts of the police to arrest him. For a time the members of the company and the crowd on the streets prevented his arrest, and it was not until a patrol wagon arrived with a detail of officers that he and two other persons under arrest could be taken. Reverdy Johnson and John H. Coleman, both members of the Baltimore Rifles, were taken to the station, followed by an angry and threatening crowd of several hundred negroes. Coleman was charged with discharging firearms in the street and when searched at the station a loaded five-barreled revolver was found on him. An additional charge of carrying concealed weapons was then entered against him and he was locked up. Great indignation is expressed over the conduct of the Baltimore company by the up. MILES OF WATERSPOUTS.

Narrow Escape of a Steamer From Destruction.

PHILADELPHIA, April 19 .- Capt. Newton of he steamship W. C. Mitchell reports that on Friday he experienced a heavy southerly gale, but on Saturday it moderated and the sea became calm. At 9 o'clock in the morning there appeared on the horizon objects which occasioned great curiosity. Some on which occasioned great curiosity. Some on board took it to be a phantom ship, while others took it to be merely a cloud formation. The ship was then about 200 miles southeast of the Delaware capes, and the objects on the horizon drew nearer and nearer the ship, when it was discovered that there were a number of water spouts following closely in each other's wake.

The noise created by the phenomena was deafening and the rush of water was greater by far than that of Niagara Falls. Quickly selzing his glass Capt. Newton discovered the direction which the waterspouts were moving and realized the danger and altered his course to avoid being struck. Capt. Newton says he never saw such large waterspouts before, and says the sight they presented as they passed the vessel was thrilling, huge bodies of water being carried in every direction for miles around.

Secret Agents in New York. WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—Gen. Bolet, the Venezuelan Minister, has had secret agents in New York recently with a view to ascertaining who was supplying the rebels with arms, supplies and cash, and the agents, reports will make, it is said, very interesting reading for the Government of Caracas. It appears that most of the war expense has been carried in New York by two commission houses with the aid of one or two daily newspapers. The first firm numbers among its silent partners Gen. Crespo, the leader of the insurgents, and it is stated that he has interests with a house that has been particularly active in booming Crespo. These firms, it appears, have agreed to secure the annulment of a concession given to the American "Red D" line steamships, plying between New York and Venezuelan ports, but the present Government, under Palaclo, steadfastly refuses to break its contracts. Crespo, however, bargained that should he come into power these firms should receive the benefits accorded the steamship company. Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor, after a month in the South, have returned to Philadelphia, where they are visiting the Willings. This week they will reach their New York home, week they will reach their New York home, pack up their effects and sail for Europe in the very near future. Mr. James R. Roosevelt and his wife, nee Astor, will sail at the same time, and it is also said upon good authority that J. Coleman Drayton, who is now keeping from the world on his Jersey farm, will return to England, if not with the Astors and Roosevelts, shortly before or after. All the members of the family will remain abroad for at least a year, so that Mrs. Astor will not spend July and August at Newport. Wm. Astor is in London now and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. W. > Weather forecast for thirty-six hours, beginning at 8 a. m. to-day, for Missouri: Genfair; clearing in South; northeast

The barometric depression and storm which was central yesterday in southwest Missouri has been forced by the higher pressure to the north southwestward into Texas, a most unusual course. This has caused the cloudy, stormy conditions in this vicinity to be prolonged, and still ren-dors improbable clearing conditions for the next thirty-six hours. Rain was general in the Ohio Valley yesterday, retreating westward last night with storm, and is now falling in Kansas and Colorado and has changed to snow from Colorado northwest-ward. In the section just north of the storm the temperature has fallen considerably to the depresion sunk southward. It now looks as if the depression would move northward and eventually eastward in rear of the high pressure, which has now its crest north of Lake Superior. This will cause continued rains in Kansas and Nebraska, extending eastward

THE NOONAN-DALTON "COMBINE."

Mayor Noonan was nominated and same official bossism and machine rule of which he is now the most offensive exponent and promoter.

The known weaknesses of the man and the bad elements and corrupt influences enlisted in his support were not overlooked. But, hoping that the Mayoralty and the prospect of further promotion would lift him above such influences, the great mass of honest Democrats accepted and ratified his nomination as a wholesome defeat of the machine operated jointly by Mayor ALLEN and Gov. FRAN-

If there is one thing which the people of St. Louis dread, and have reason to dread more than another, it is a close factional partnership between the Mayor of the city and the Governor of the State. It neans a rotten police force of political spoils machine, and a city ruled regardless Mayor and his body-guard of looters.

Will the Democrats who do not wear the collar of "de push" assist at the pending primaries in laying the foundation for the establishment of such a Noonan-Dalton autocracy? That is the issue which overtops all others in this fight.

NOONAN has demonstrated that of all men he is the most unfit to be trusted as the ruler of this city with a confederate or tool in the office of Governor at Jefferson City, and the success of the Noonan-Dalton ticket in the primaries means a majority for the Republican ticket in St. Louis next fall and next spring. The Noonan-Dalton combination, with all that it implies, may be saddled upon the Democracy but not upon the city.

In office NOONAN has ignored his promises and his honest supporters. On the theory that the most potent forces in politics are made up of those who want something besides good government, he has used his official patronage and power merely to unite all such forces in a personal faction enlisted in his service and under his control. Believing that he could thus organize a political machine invincible by any popular revolt, he promptly bent his official knee to Col. ED BUTLER and to all supported ALLEN against him. They have never had a more subservient tool in the City Hall.

The memory of this, of the City Hall's on. villainous traffic in Congressional and other nominations in 1890, and of the many have made the Noonan administration a burning disgrace to the city, should admonish all Democrats who have the honor of the city and party at heart, to crush this Noonan-Dalton conspiracy under an avalanche of primary votes.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: "Shall Children be Punished?" sidned Widow, I have carefully perused. It seems almost incredible that any woman wearing the holy crown of motherhood should advo country. This situation, which at a super- cate that low, vulgar form of corporeal punishment so closely allied to "the blue laws," harmony and happiness, is in reality a able, thinking mortals; then why hurt termed "spanking." Children are reason flesh instead of appealing to is not yet a true republic. The existence of parties which peacefully struggle for supremacy is at once the best evidence of the freedom of a people and the best safeguard of their liberties. When the administration of a republic cannot be changed by election it will be changed by revolution. Diaz is probably as good a President as the Mexicans can find, but they would have a far better government if they could exercise free choice among opposing parties at the polls. The enjoyment of this privilege would put an end to revolutions and talk of revolutions in Mexico. Our elections are costly, but they are worth their cost.

All Anti-Noonan Democrats Getting Ready for the Fray.

Meeting To-Night to Perfect Their Organization.

JUDGE MADILL'S FRIENDS WILL RALLY TO SAVE HIM.

Desertions From the Noonan Ranks Are Frightening the Mayor and His Lieutenant, Bill Swift-They Fail to Control One Delegation Which They Put Up-John B. O'Meara Says the Opposition Will Surprise the Mayor and Farmer Dick-Political News.

The anti-Noonan Democrats will organize o-night in a general caucus, to which they ave invited all the active Democrats of the wards who are making a fight to defeat the ticket of the Mayor and W. H. Swift at the primaries. To-morrow an address signed by the business men of the city who are Demo will be issued. The address will point out to voters that the success the Mayor at these primaries means only indirectly a victory for Dalton. and that this is the least part of the ends the Noonan-Swift campaign aims to accomplish. It will show that the principal object of the campaign is to strengthen the Mayor's hands spring and put the police force into his hands use for political ends, as an adjunct to the powerful machine composed of city emloyes, at the head of which he now is. It ill warn Democratic voters that by refus ng hearty support to the anti-Noonan party at the primaries, they will be casting their votes for his renomination next spring. A copy of the address will be sent to the home

"By 10 o'clock to-morrow morning," said Chairman John C. Williamson today, "the anti-Noonan fight will have a headquarters down-town, with men in charge. We have already a good organization in the wards which has been doing effective work, and I can assure you that the Dalton-Noonan combination will be expected when they see our strength. There are many of the Democratic business men in town who have their fortunes resting upon railway and other interests which are subject to damaging assault by the City Government, and they do not care to invite this danger by appearing in the front of the fight, although they will do strong and useful work. For myself, they can't reach me by this kind of attack. Mr. Jones has assailed me and Mayor Noonan has pitched into me, but he can't get to me to hurt me unless he goes out some night and burns my house."

MR. SWIFT'S CUNNING GAME.

Chairman Wilkinson resents the attempt of the literary bureau of the Noonan combination, composed of Mr. Swift, Mr. Macklin and Mr. Jones, to place him in the attitude of leading the same independent party, including both Republicans and Democrats, that ran a council ticket last year. This is essentially a movement of Democrats who want to protect the city from municipal danger, said he. "The only 4ssue is Noonan, charley Mamitt is in the movement, fighting with us, of course. Why shouldn't he be? He is a Democrat and he is opposed to the Noonan methods."

It is admitted on all hands that this last scheme of Mr. Swift's was very shrewdly contrived. If the election were too near to show the Democratic voters that the Independent movement of last fall has nothing to do with the present Demogratic fight on the Mayor's machine, the plan would succeed. Mr. Swift represents Excongressman N.O. Nelson as one of the leaders in the anti-Noonan movement, hoping to cloud the real issue by drawing in this reform party. Mr. Nelson as been on the Pacific coast for several months and has just returned to the City.

"You are said to be using your influence with the Democrats opposing the Dalton-Noonan ticket," a reporter said to him to-day.

"Am I?" said Mr. Nelson. "Why, I have inst returned from a two-months' vacation.

"Am I?" said Mr. Nelson. "Why, I have just returned from a two-months' vacation, and my knowledge of the present campaign is derived exclusively from a partial reading of the daily papers. I have not volunteered any advice nor have I been asked for any. I have no part in this contest."

"You are regarded as a public-spirited contest"

"The two public questions which I regard of far-reaching consequence are free trade and city elections on city issues, apart from national party control. Neither of these are directly, if indeed, remotely involved, in this election for convention delegates."

NDEFENDENTS NOT IN IT.

Frank R. O'Nell, the Independent manager, is also said to be figuring in the anti-Noonan movement, and the Swift bureau is laying stress on that, warning Democrats that they will be read out of the party if they go with an uprising in which independent voters participate. "Naturally," said Mr. O'Nell to-day, "I would be counted in on all hands as supporting a movement against the administration, my attitude is so well known. But I have had absolutely nothing to do with the formation of Mr. Wilkinson's committee. I am not on it. I have held myself aloof purposely, presuming that if I went in with it the Noonan men would seize the apportunity to call this opposition in the Democratic party an independent movement.

"In fact," added Mr. O'Nell, "the Indein the Democratic party an independent movement.

"In fact," added Mr. O'Nell, "the Independent party does not appear in this contest at all. There has been no authority given to any one by the permanent campaign committee of the party to use the party's name. And, indeed, the only use of the name has been by the Noonan men who hoped to deceive Democratic voters into the belief that by opposing Noonan they would be going over to an independent party."

Councilman William T. Anderson was fought by the Independents last year and elected. He is in the van of the Wilkinson fight on Noonanism. "Do you suppose," said the Councilman to-day, "that a man could live in this town if Noonan got his hands on the police force?"

The idea was suggested a few days ago while a party of Democratic merchants were talking politics on 'Change. It was taken up at once and Marcus Bernheimer, the ex-Pre sident of the Exchange, was made a sub-committee to draw up and send out a suitable circular. To-day the copies were put in the mails. The circular is as follows:

Speaking of the movement to day Mr. Bernheimer said there was no question whatever that the club would be a successful and influential organization. "It will be a Democratic organization to the core" he said, "and it will be a fixture as well. We intend to make it a permanent affair to continue from one campaign to another."

There was was more bustle than usual this orning at the Dalton-Noonan-Swift headquarters in the Richelieu Hotel. This was due to the presence of Col. Dalton himself. The gubernatorial candidate with the push indersement came up early this morning and after breakfast went directly to headquarters where he held a conversation with Chairman Swift. That official assured him that everything connected with the campaign was in satisfactory shape and that the workers were out in every ward. This pleased the candidate from Rolla and his broad face was soon wreathed in smiles. When Col. Dalton left to meet other workers away from the headquarters, the city employes began to pour it. In less than half an hour there was a long string of buggles in front of the hotel. Most of them carried sprinkling inspectors to the headquarters. Mayor's Secretary Jim Brennan to show that he was more than an ordinary attache of the city administration came in a carriage, whispered something to Grand Vizier Swift and then made his departure. Secretary Brennan is by no means the idol of the rank and file of the "depush" and the reception given him was not very cordial. The sprinkling inspection contingent was led by big Jim Cunningham and E. E. Guion. They justified their presence on the ground that the streets were all wet and did not need inspection.

Alderman Jim Cronin, the leader of the push forces in the First Ward, came up with the report that everything looked "gay" in the First. "Jim Butler is agin us down dere," he said to a Post-Disparch reporter and dat's what makes me look so sad. Still me and Jim are good friends, but he ought to get in de push, see.

Among the other city officials on hand were about a dozen Street Department workers of all grades of importance. John Roifes represented the Building Commissioner and John Matthews the Health Department. and John Matthews the Health Department. While the workers were discussing Dalton's chances in an outer room Col. Swift was in consultation with the deputy leaders in the Executive Committee's room. Among the callers received by Col. Swift was Adiel Sherwood of the legal department of the Frisco system. He is a son of Chief Justice Sherwood of the Supreme bench, who desires re-election. When the executive conference was over Chairman Swift informed a Post-Disparch representative that nothing had been done beyond arranging a lot of ward meetings. "Just say," he said, "that everything is satisfactory to us and that Mr. Dalton's chances are growing brighter every day. We receive reports from all the wards every day, and you can say that the indications for a sweeping victory are excellent."

Maj. John B. O'Meara was meandering about the City Hall 'this morning at a point as lar as possibly distant from the mayor's office. He went right into the camp of the enemy, however, and meandered through the Street Department with a fearless tread. His appearance created no end of astonishment among the "push," but pleasant greetings passed as though the political horizon were all serene. When asked how his canvass was progressing, he replied: "I'm not making any canvass. I am not tied up with any faction and am relying on my friends. What do'I think of the Noonan-Dalton combination? Well, victory will only come after a very hot. tion and am relying on my irends. What do
I think of the Noonan-Dalton combination?
Well, victory will only come after a very hot fight. I think the canvass will be one of the liveliest the city has ever seen. The anti-Noonan forces are not making any display about precinct organization, but they have a terrible amount of quiet strength.
They are not holding big public meetings, but I understand that there are any number of private meetings being held at different private residences which are of ia very earnest nature and will be productive of marked results. The anti-push movement is stronger than its opponents imagine, and its organization, which is not apparent on the surface, is very strong. Those people will be heard from, and they will be heard from very

Central Committeeman James Gallagher of the Sixth Ward was in Recorder Carlisle's office this morning to see that the names on the anti-Noonan ticket were properly placed. "When I said last week that I had Jumped away from the combine I meant it," he said to a Post-Disparch representative. "I took this step, too, knowing that I would be liable to lose my place in the Street De partment. I have been standing by Noon an all along and was with him at the last committee meeting. I do not propose to be buildozed by the Mayor, Jim Brennan, Swift nor anybody else. As the Central Committeeman of the Sixth Ward I have some rights, which they refused to recognize on the theory that I would have to submit, being a city employe. They took the position that I had no right to name delegates. I like Palton and am sorry to see that he got himself mixed up in that deal. I am with the opposition to the administration in this fight and I feel sure that the step I have taken will be indorsed by the Democrats of the Sixth Ward."

Gallagher's action leaves the complexion of the committee nine for Noonan and nineteen against him.

Trouble in the Twenty-Fourth Ward. the Sixth Ward was in Recorder Carlisle's fourth Ward Democratic ranks which bodes ill for the push. It has developed that the three delegates the ward is entitled to have in the Sedalia convention are opposed to Jones. They are for State Chairman Mamtt. This discovery was conveyed to the Dalton head-quarters to-day, and steps were commenced to have the ticket changed. The three delegates in question are C. H. Huft, D. J. Sullivan and John Dwyer. The last mentioned occupies a position in Water Commissioner Holman's Department, and he has declared he will oppose the whole Noonan outfit, Jones included. This was not the only discovery made. It was discovered that more than haif the delegates O. K.'d by Swift are against Noonan, although they favor Dalton. The ticket, it seems, was made up by the Tammany Club of the Twenty-fourth Ward before the Dalton-Noonan-Swift deal was consummated. The club intended to run it as a "Oleveland-Dalton" ticket and pay out of its treasury the amount required to get it on the official primary ballot. When the deal was made, Clerk Hugh T. Pattison of the Oriminal Court took the ticket to Swift, who scratched out Cleveland's name, leaving only Dalton's cognomen at the top. The club is very indignant in consequence, and may yet take off all the anti-Noonan names and run a straight ticket in opposition to the combine.

The saloon is owned by Pete Morrissey, the professional bondsman, who started into business backed by Ed Butler's money. It is a popular resort during the time of primary elections. More signs like this appear above saloons in North St. Louis and in that part of the central town between Jefferson avenue and the Levee, Cass avenue and Market street. The Dalton men are making a lively saloon campaign, one that will cost them several thousand dollars.

THE THREE PRISONERS TESTIFY AT

Hollingsworth, Blackburn and Douglass Tell of What They Know of the Dead Woman-She Attempted to Com-

on the body of the woman known as Mrs Ann Hollingsworth, who committed suicide or was shot by some one else early Sunga G. W. Hollingsworth, Wylle Black burn and Wm. J. Douglass were brought in as prisoners, having been arrested by the police on suspicion of being implicated in some way with the shooting of the woman. Ex-Gov, Johnson was also present representing the prisoners in a legal capacity.

The first witness was M. S. Hartman, a brother of the dead woman. He is a painter from Kansas City. His sister's n said, was Ann Hartman or Ann Hollingsworth. He didn't know whether she and Hollingsworth were married or not, but she always claimed to him that they were. They lived together as husband and wife in Kansas City last summer. He never knew of their quarreling; was in their house only once, and had seen her but that once in fourteen years. She was about 34 years old and born in Illinois. None of the family ever committed suicide.

G. W. Hollingsworth was next called. He said, was Ann Hartman or Ann Hollingssaid that he lived at 53 East street, East 8t.

Louis, with his mother when he worked over the river. On this side he lived at 1904 Frankilin avenue. He was never married to Annie Hartman, but they lived together as husband and wife, and he introduced her as his wife.
They lived together off and on since 1881. They separated at last because she wanted to marry Blackburn. He, the witness, saw her last at 606 North Eleventh street. He went there to get a pet dog. He found Blackburn there, and the three played cards and drank beer together.
They had no quarrel or trouble of any kind.
Blackburn and the woman wanted him to remain all night, and so he went to bed and they were. He didn't see either again that night, and didn't know of the shooting until told of it by a policeman the next morning.
She was in good spirits that night. Blackburn was there when he came. They seemed to be very affectionate. She said to him once:
"Your'e my husband, ain't you?" and he answered "yes." They seemed to be very fond of each other and were both in good humor when they left him. The only tims that she ever spoke to the witness of committing suicide was when he was starting for Arkansas. She said then that, if he left she would follow him and shoot him and also herself. She had a high temper and was a very brave woman.

DOUGLASS' TESTIMONY.

The next witness, Wm. J. Douglass, knew the deceased well and also Blackburn. The woman thought a great deal of Blackburn and told witness that she loved him. Last Saturday evening he hung a lot of pictures for the deceased and had supper with her. He then went out and got some sugar for her at the grocery and returned with it, but did not go in the house. He did not see her again until she was in the Morgue, At supper that evening she said that Blackburn was coming that night. Witness once heard the woman say that if Hollingsworth did not treat her better she would kill him and then herself.

Asked which of the three, Blackburn, Hollingsworth or himself she liked the best, the witness answered Hollingsworth.

Officer McGuire testified to having arrested Blackburn directly after the shooting. He was running at the time, and when stopped said that a woman had shot herself, and was then at 1523 North Seventh street at his mother's house. Blackburn had blood on his face and hands and a revolver in his pocket which he pulled out himself and showed the witness. He claimed that the woman had shot herself because he would not go with her to a hotel.

A brother of Blackburn testified to letting him in his mother's house blackburn's mother herself. The woman was unconscious when brought into the house. She never heard her son say that he wanted to get rid of the woman. She never came to her house, but sometimes ent notes there. She never heard her son say that he wanted to get rid of the woman. Asked if the woman had ever attempte before to commit suicide or had threateneto, he answered that last Augus she took a dose of morphin and wanted him to take some. Here for Dr. Hartman and the doctor came and wanted him to take some. It ran for Dr. Hartman and the doctor can and saved her life. She refused to take the antidote at that time and the doctor had force her mouth open by holding her nose. According to Blackburn the pistol wit which the shooting was done belonged to the woman and he never carried a pistol. The jury returned a verdict of suicide an Blackburn, Hollingsworth and Dougla were all discharged.

REORGANIZATION OF THE ASSEMBLY. The City Fathers Come Together for Their

New Session-City Hall News. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the Council and House of Delegates reorganized for the new ession of 1892-93. Previous to reorganization an adjourned meeting from last evening was held and the body kept continually in session until the time of reorganization so as to prevent a sine die adjournment. No changes cli the Democrats being too busy with outside politics to bring about the threatened combination and oust the Republican of-

In the House of Delegates everything passed off smoothly, in spite of rumors to the effect that Speaker Ward would be deposed. The affiliation of a number of the delegates to the affiliation of a number of the delegates to the Noonan forces since the combination with Dalton has brought a friendlier feeling between the Mayor's office and the House. Speaker Ward has not joined "de push," but he is a warm friend of Dalton, and his support is expected for the Noonan-Dalton delegates in the Twenty-fourth Ward. The whole programme for this afternoon's session was mapped out at a caucus held Sunday, between Speaker Ward and his friends. All the old officers were relected, with the exception of James H. Townsend, the speaker pro tem, who asked to be relieved. Delegate Wm. H. O'Brien of the Fourteenth Ward was elected in his place.

the Fourteenth Ward was elected in his place.

At last night's session of the Council a number of drinking fountain bills were slaughtered. Bills authorizing the erection of an equestrian statue to Gen. Sherman, authorizing the Bell Telephone Co. to place its wires under ground, the Electric Connecting Railway bill, Diamond Jo Railroad bill, Southwestern Railroad bill, Helmar Avenue & Clayton Railroad bill, Midland Railroad bill, the Arsenal Street Railroad extension and the Central Electric bill were filed. Councilman Anderson's dram shop bill, the bill to license bicycles and an ordinance granting water free to the Little Sisters of the Poor, also fell under the ax. The Page, King's highway, West Pine, Lindell, Delmar and Washington boulevard bills were signed by President Walbridge and the business of the session was over.

A River Front Boulevard.

The only item of interest that came up at this morning's meeting of the Board of Public rovements was the Street Commission ers' report on a communication from the ers' report on a communication from the Eighteenth Ward Improvement Association, asking that the Grand Avenue boulevard be extended to the Chain of Rocks. The Improvement Association asked that instead of having the Boulevard stop at Broadway it be extended to the Water-works conduit and thence along the conduit to the new Water-works park at the Chain of Rocks. This would afford a broad level drive along the river front that would chain of Rocks. This would afford a broad level drive along the river front that would far surpass as a drive any part of the present boulevard system. Commissioner Murphy returned the communication with the report that the conduit drive would in all probability be made a part of the boulevard system. The board set May 10 as a date for hearing petitions for street openings and improvements, and for receiving bids for the construction of Engine-house No. 30 on Vernon avenue, and for the interior finishings of the new City Hall.

Two New Appointments.

There are two new employes in the Street Department whose appointments have created considerable comment. Louis Yoste has been made an overseer of granite paying in lieu of one Caffrey, a Noonan lieutenant or principal, but not a strong man in practical politics. Yoste is said to be a clever ward striker and owes his appointment to his political prowess which he is expected to exercise at the coming primaries.

Nimrod Kerley, a son of the Superintendent of the Female Hospital, has been appointed a cement inspector. The peculiar feature in Mr. Kerley's case is that he gets his board and lodging at the city's expense out at the hospital, and then draws a salary for the laborious occupation of seeing men unload cement sacks from a wagon. ated considerable comment. MR. CAPEN'S NEW RAILROAD.

The Lindell Co. Asks the Council for a Valuable Cross-Town Franchise, The first business transacted at this after-meeting of the new City was the introduction by of a bill granting Mr. Horton of a bill granting a franchise to the Compton Heights, Union Depot & Merchants' Terminal Railroad Co. to operate an electric road over certain streets of the city. The bill is a bold and clever move on the part of Mr. George Capen and the-directors of the Lindell Railway Co. to circumvent Mr. Sweeney's Central Electric franchise. The route of the new road will be from Third and Carr streets to the bridge entrance on Washington avenue, thence west over the Lindell tracks on — Washington avenue to Eighteenth street, south on Eighteenth Eighteenth street, south on Eighteenth street and across the bridge to the Lindell Blue Line's tracks, then west on Chouteau avenue to Mississippi avenue, then south to Park avenue and west to Lawrence avenue, then south to Tower Grove Park. There will be a spur running over Nebraska avenue to Shenandoah street, and the return route will be down Shenandoah street and across Compton avenue.

Shenandoan street, and the return route win be down Shenandoan street and across Compton avenue.

Mr. Capen, in speaking of the measure, said: "The name indicates who are back of the company and why it is being built. The directors of the Lindeli company will be the directors of the Lindeli company. We estimate the road will cost us $700,000, and we will agree to have it finished east of Grand avenue within eight months after we get the franchise. When the streets west of Grand avenue are improved we will push the road out, and if they open Vandeventer avenue I will connect it with my road and run cars from Tower Grove to the Fair Grounds."

There will be some opposition to the road from the projectors of the new Grand avenue railroad and perhaps from the Scullin lines, but Mr. Capen counts on the support of the people of Compton Hill to pull him through. The road will be a public convenience, but the franchise will not be granted without some deliberation, as it is perhaps the most valuable in the gift of the Municipal Assembly.

It is a warm situation when you are troubled with indigestion, or, in fact, any of those ills that arise from derangements of the digestive apparatus. You go to the drugstore and you will probably take some pepsin preparation, some mercurial doses which will injure you for life. Stop it. The medical fraternity throughout the world are now recognizing Johann Hoff's Malt Extract as a standard remedy. It is specially recommended for invalids where a delicate yet strengthening tonic is necessary to build up a debilitated constitution. There are lots of counterfeits on the market. The genuine have the signature of "Johann Hoff" on the neck of bottle. It is beneficial alike for man, or woman, or child. Esner & Mendelson Co., N. Y., Sole Agents.

THE WYOMING INVASION. Rustlers Determined on Wiping Out Hire

lings of the Cattle Barons. DougLAS, Wyo., April 19 .- It is quite evi-

ent that all press telegrams from Buffalo are n a measure controlled by local feeling. The bulk of the matter sent out is probably true, but only a portion of the facts are told. Three nembers of the cattlemen's party were killed at the T. A. ranch, where the regulators were besieged, and another was shot while surrender was being arranged under a flag of truce. The three men killed were Texans who were shot in passing from the impro vised fort to a cellar a few yards distant, where the party kept supplies.

A man named Linvell passed through Doug las yesterday en route to Cheyenne. He says he was at the T. A. ranch three days after the surrender of the invaders, and saw the bodies of these three men lying on the out was close enough to make sure they were ead men, who had probably been over ooked by the military when the party sur-endered and had been allowed to lie there ver since. The fourth man was a Texan named Low ther, who, according to Buffalo dispatches was "accidentally" shot while the surren der was taking place, and who has since died. Another member of the invading party, a teamster, named Green, who was wounded when the wagons were captured, had his leg amputated and will probably die W. Linvell referred to above has for several years been foreman of H. B. Jams' out-fit. Ijams' ranch is fifty miles from Buffalo. Linvell says he has been notified by certain parties that he must sever his connection with Ijams or leave the country. He says he wants to stay and consequently was on his way to Cheyenne to settle with his employer and quit his service. H. O. Chamber, foreman of the Ogalalla

Cattle Co., has also received a letter advis ing him to get out of the country and passed through here on his way to Cheyenne to-day. If the invading party now prisoners at Fort McKinney is brought to Douglas under escort of the military the party will be at least five days en route. It will camp the first night at Crazy Woman Crossing, the second at Pow-der River, the third at Collins Station, the fourth at Brown Springs and will reach Doug-las on the fifth. The latest reports from the north are to the effect that Sheriff Augus now has about five hundred armed men in the vicinity of Buffalo effect that Sheriff Augus now has about five hundred armed men in the vicinity of Buffalo who are represented as determined to prevent the removal of the prisoners from that county if possible. There are no less than four places on the road which are admirably suited for ambush. The first is the section of country just after leaving Powder River, where the road follows the dry fork of that stream for fourteen miles, and crosses the dry bed of the stream sixteen times in that distance. There are high bluffs within easy rife range all along, and the country thereabouts is very broken and ragged. Twenty good riflemen could station themselves along this canyon and pick off many of the prisoners with comparative safety to themselves, for the cavalry would be almost helpless in trying to pursue.

There are three other places, Dry Cheyenne, Sandy Creek and Antelope Springs, where like tactics could be pursued.

The wires in this section of the country were cut two days axo, and it is not known positively that Col. Van Horne and his three troops have left Fort McKinney for Douglas with their cattlemen prisoners.

If Col. Van Horne has left Fort McKinney for Douglas with their cattlemen prisoners.

If Col. Van Horne has left Fort McKinney for Douglas with their cattlemen prisoners. with their cattlemen prisoners.

If Col. Van Horne has left Fort McKinney the feeling here is that he has been attacked. He is a most determined officer. It is concluded that he has not given up the prisoners without a fight.

This is the situation at the present time and the greatest anxiety is felt for the safety of the cavalry under Col. Van Horne, who stands no show in case of an attack by the angry rustlers, who would as soon shoot a trooper as a cattleman if anything was to be gained by it.

Efforts to Curtail Padding of the "Record"

-Hill Votes for Silver. WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—Senator Morrill was in his seat for the first time since his recent illness and was the recipient of many affectionate inquiries and congratulations. The daily infringement of the copyright law in the official the copyright law in the official Record were brought to the attention of the Senate by Mr. Sanders, who offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Judiciary to inquire whether the publication in the Congressional Record without the consent of the proprietor of a copyright book subjected persons circulating copies of such Record to the penalties of section 4,904 of the revised statutes (relating to the law of copyrights), and also whether any person was ilable in damage to the owner of copyright for such publication, and if so what person.

On objection of Mr. Platt the resolution went over until to-morrow.

In the House the first step toward curtailing the extraneous matter published in the Congressional Record was made this morning by a resolution, submitted by the Committee on Rules, that all orders heretofore made granting general leave to print remarks in the Record shall be vacated and set aside. Mr. McMillin of Tennessee advocated the resolution.

doctrines of Henry George which were a denunciation of the farming class.

Mr. Warner of New York said that the original motion of Mr. Burrows of Michigan was couched in such language that no self-respecting house could vote for it.

After further remarks by Mr. O'Neill of Pennsylvania, Mr. Hooker of Mississippi and Mr. Buchanan of New Jersey, the resolution was passed.

Pennsylvania, Mr. Hooker of Mississippi and Mr. Buchanan of New Jersey, the resolution was passed.

The House Committee on Banking and Currency to day ordered Mr. Bacon of New York to report favorably the bill introduced by Mr. Hopkins of Illinois, authorizing a national bank at Chicago to establish a branch at the World's Fair. The bill as reported provides that any national bank located in the City of Chicago and State of Illinois, which may be designated by the World's Columbian Exposition to conduct a banking office upon the exposition grounds, is hereby authorized to open and conduct such office as a branch of the bank subject to the same restrictions and having the same rights as the bank to which it belongs; provided, that the branch office authorized hereby shall not be operated for a longer period than two years, beginning not earlier than July 1, 1894, and closing not later than July 1, 1894.

On the Stewart resolution calling up the silver bill senator Hill voted with the silver men, showing, as has been claimed, that he is in favor of free colnage. The matter is attracting great attention about the Capitol, as it is the first time the Senator has shown his hand.

were selected to form the committee. They retired to an ante-room to prepare their report. The Grand Lodge was then formally opened, and proceeded to business in secret session. The Committee on Credentials made a partial report, and the convention took a recess until 1:30 p. m. to give the committee time to complete their work. At that hour the Grand Lodge or old age degree was conferred on the members designated by the Credentials Committee. The other committees then reported and the convention settled down to business. During the recess Grand Dictator Col. John I. Martin stated that the convention would devote its time to-morrow to a discussion of the good of the order. He said that an effort would be made to raise the per capita tax from 40 cents semi-annually to its semi-annually to its emi-annually to fisemi-annually, in order to place in the hands of the Grand Dictator an emergency fund. The election and installation of officers will occur to-morrow evening, which will be the concluding business.

John Wahl, V. Pres't. Richard Hospes, Cashler. H. Hunicke, Ass't Cashle Private wire to J. P. Grier: CHICAGO, April 19.—We have had an active and nervous market in wheat during the entire session. May opened at 80%c. soid at 81%c, and closed at 80%c. The July option until near the close sold at a premium, but it closed 50%c bid. A large decrease in the quantity affoat to the Continent and United Kingdom offset the lower and weaker cables until about noon, when an estimate of Dornbusch of the total wants, making it about 64,000,000 but for the United Kingdom and Continent until Sept. 1, was received. This estimate for value is something like the Dodge figures, subject to corrections. Cash wheat is in good demand here for shipment at about 14%c over the May price. Lake and rail freights for the seaboard are now about 74%c as against 10c a week ago. The future value is anound present prices before a spear of either winter or spring crop is secured looks safe enough to buy. The Atlantic seaboard shipments are light. This, we look for to improve shortly. Corn active and strong. The buying early was good and widely scattered. Sellers were few and May advanced from 41c to 42%c. It closed at 42½c. With the light movement, low inland and ocean freights and a good demand we look to see higher prices, until the demand is satisfied or receipts increase largely. Hogs had been steady early, but declined 5c before trading in pork began. As a result the May option opened Tyle under last night's figures at $3.85 and made a further dive to $9.75. There was a momentary recovery to $9.85, followed by a reaction to the bottom figure, with $9.77½ the ruling quotation at 11 o'clock. Lard declined 2½c to 6.20c May and erlbs 5c to 5.50c May. With Cottrel as the chief buyer of wheat and Pardridge a seller the market for that cereal became easier, aided by disappointing cables. A decrease on passage of 2,256,000 stemmed the decline. The Northwestern weather, too, was not up to standard pitch. It was current gossip that foreigners were not much disturbed by the cold wave. Instead of an advance the Board of Trade cable reported Liverpool quiet and ½c lower and London cargoes unchanged. May wheat here opened $6 lower at 80%c, touched 805%c, recovered to 81½c, weakened to 80%c, and at 11 a. m. was 81c, with a quick down-shoot a few moments later to 80½q5%c. In corn something of a flurry was caused by May shorts turning buyers. The market was firm also on poor grading and receipts falling under the estimate. The arrivals were 336, against expectations of 400. Only four cars were up to contract requirements. May opened $6 to wheat and 1½c for corn.—May. 81c; July. 80%c. Corn—May. 81c; July. 80%c. The Sind crop is not so good, owing to an almost entire absence of rain, but on irrigated lands a full outturn is expected. Taking sixteen as a full averacecrop this year's yield is estimated at ten. With regard to wheat, after a careful inquiry, estimates are for an export of not less than 400,000 tons this year; that is, if there is fair inducement to ship. There is probably as much as 100,000 tons to id wheat in stock up country yet, and although there is a cry for more rain from some districts, the average all round points to a fair our-turn. The harvest will be a month earlier than last year's, owing to the setting in of an early hot season. Good Peach Crop Promised.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 19.-Dispatches received from Muskegon, Grand Rapids, St. Joseph, Traverse City, South Haven, Saugatuck and other points in Michigan state that the outlook for an abundant peach crop is exceptionally fine. The buds are not far enough advanced to be injured by the recent frosts. Many reports state that the crop is unusually large.

CHRIS ON COMISKEY

The St. Louis President Gets Back at the Cincinnati Captain.

HE ACCUSES HIS OLD LIEUTENANT OF BEING AN INGRATE.

Capt. Tebeau of the Cleveland Club Talks About His Team-A Forty-two-Round Battle in California-Manager Barnie of Washington Released - Talk of the Field, Turf and Ring.

The interview in last night's Post-Dispatch with Capt. Comiskey, in which the latter criticised President Von der Ahe, hit the latter pretty hard and touched more than one tender spot in his nature. When seen this morning Chris had lots to tell about Comiskey and was willing to tell it. "I have been a good friend of Comiskey," said the St. Louis President, "and have on more than one occasion favored him and his relatives. I brought Comiskey here from Dubuque in 1880, when he was a mere stripling, and raised him from the position of train boy to captain of the St. Louis Browns. wealth with me. But for the fact that I have befriended Comiskey and his relatives in many ways I would not pay any attento his ungrateful and uncalled. fling at me and my club. Comiskey's interview reveals him in the light of seeking to revenge himself upon me, be-cause of my absolute refusal to submit to his desire to work me for an exorbitant ard outregeous salary of $7,000 to play ball in St. Louis this year. He has been hollering loud and long to 'get even,' and he takes Sunday's questionable victory to vent his spleen. In the first place, he alludes to his team as being the could if not the superior of any equal, if not the superior of any other team in the new league and illariously illustrates it by referring to the nice, clean manner in which sunday's game was gained. Any fair-minded, impartial observer will bear me out n the statement that Umpire Sheridan gave incinnati the best of every decision, on both ase plays and calling of balls off Caruthers and strikes off Muliane, thus killing off every possible chance St. Louis had to win. The Cincinnati club officials who saw the game admitted to a number of people whom I could ficials there."

officials there."

"Have you and Comiskey had a personal row?"

"No; when he refused my offer of $5,000 to play ball in St. Louis this year he said he had a sucker in Indianapolis whom he could work for $7,500, and wanted to know if I blamed him for getting in his work. I told him to go ahead and get it.

"So Comiskey predicts that I will kill base ball in St. Louis, now that he has deserted the city. Well, I have been running the St. Louis Browns for ten years, and base ball today in St. Louis is livelier, more prosperous and has a brighter outlook than it has had for several years past. If you will take the trouble to notice, we have started out this year about as well as Comiskey, with all his effrontery, bluster and blatherskite rot about base ball in St. Louis, not mentioning his marvelously brilliant managerial tactics. Did Comiskey make any aliusion in his interview to the year he shook St. Louis for the Brotherhood in Chicago, making an inglorious failure of a clubthat was everywhere heralded as pennant winners? Somehow he avoided this. It lost a good deal of money, and he was giad enough to have the chance to compromise on his salary. Whose management was it but his that led the Chicago club into this hole? Comiskey in the heat of a passion to get even, as he terms it, should recall the old adage that 'people who live in glass houses should not throw stones."

"Yes," safd Mr. Von der Ahe, continuing, iskey in the heat of a passion to get even, as he terms it, should recall the old adage that 'beople who live in glass houses should not throw stones.'"

'Yes,'' said Mr. Von der Ahe, continuing, ''last year's team was a pretty fair illustration of Comiskey's management of a club, the ran it on a go-as-you-please basis, and we had several lushers on the list all season. He had no more control over the men than a sick kitten would have had. There are two or three misstatements in his tirade which I denounce as lies made out of whole cloth. I refer to what he says about the Indianapolis meeting, in which he says the Chicago crowd would have handled me roughly had I not remained in my room. As a matter of fact I circulated more freely at that meeting than anybody, and was with Williams and his people a number of times while there. I had absolutely nothing to do with their coming in the Association or going out, any more than any other of the eight clubs' officials.

''Comiskey's alleged criticism of base ball affairs in St. Louis don't go. He simply shows himself up in a bad light when he attempts to throw his shortcomings and sins of omission and commission in my pathway. He's as full of managerial errors as an egg is of meat, and he has been called down repeatedly for them. His reference to a throw-down of me by the new League is possibly made to avoid a too critical analysis of his own weak position. He has gone to a town where base ball was a costly business last year, the League club there losing fully $30,000. They are in no humor to be trified with. Comiskey has received a good slice of advance money, and if he don't play better ball than he did last year, John T. Brush will put him on the toboggan silde so quick it will cause him to reel. He's in no position to crow. The Cincinnati people this year will not tolerate a poor club.

''My position in base ball is well-known. Semi-monthly for the past ten years some scribe would come out with the announcement that I've been thrown down, and yet I'm still in it, day, as it will be Pat's initial appearance as a professional in this city. Speaking of his club Pat said: "We are not in as good a condition as I would desire. Davis, one of our eading batters, is suffering with a severe attack of Charley horse. It troubled him so much at Cincinnati that I had to send him nome. He will not be able to play for several weeks. Catcher O'Connor, who is considerable of an outfielder, will endeavor to fill the vacancy. I have also another catcher, Doyle, who can play in the outfield if necessary. Catcher for the property will depress to the backery work. mer will do most of the backstop work, and as he is a steady, reliable man who can catch every day in the week if necessary, you can percleve we are not so badly off as would be expected. Farmer Young, our crack twirler, is in fine fettle. He pitched his initial game at Cincinnati Friday, and had Comiskey's men at his mercy. Davies is also in fine form and Viau is rounding up rapidly. We have only thirteen men this trip, but as we return home Thursday to open the season the absent players will not b

Tubeau is confident that his team will make better showing than any of the Western lubs. "We met Chicago at Hot Springs and while the colts put up a stiff game we had no trouble downing them Louisville is a good club and now that they have Pfeffer to handle them, will undoubtedly make a fair showing. Cincinnati will, under Comiskey's control, show up well, and Pitts burg and St. Louis ought to do so also. But, taken as a whole, I have no fear but that we will finish ahead of them all." In closing the Cleveland Captain said: "Jack O'Connor is conducting himself like a gentleman and I am convinced that he will continue to do so. He has shown up extremely well so far, and, unless I am greatly mistaken, will continue to do so and make a valuable element in the team."

The Cleveland team leaves to-night for home, where they play Cincinnati on Thursday.

BALTIMORE GETS WOOD.

BALTIMORE, April 19 .- The management of the Pittsburg Base Ball Club telegraphed President Von der Horst that the Baltimore Club could not have Wood, the released Washington outfielder, that he belonged to Pittsburg. Mr. Von der Horst immediately put himself in communication with Chairman Young at Washington and was informed that Wood did belong to Baltimore. Mr. Young sent a letter to Pittsburg showing how and why Wood was now a part of the Baltimore team.

BARNIE BOUNCED WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—Manager Barnie of the Washington Base Ball Club has been given his release by the managers, who own the team. The rumor of his release has been going about for some time and several Cincinnati club officials who saw the game admitted to a number of people whom I could name that their club had away the best of it in this respect, and were honest and fairminded enough to say so. To hear Comiskey shout you would think he won the game by himself, and he is joilying himself that he is the only individual in Cincinnati capable of winning a game. He at least is aching to rivet this impression in the minds of the club officials there."

BROWNING FOR THE BROWNS. LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 19 .- Pete Browning, the famous gladiator of the green diamond, this morning received an offer from the St. Louis Club. When asked whether he would accept or not, he said decided. that had received a previous offer from St. Louis, but was in no hurry to sign with anybody, and especially not with St. Louis. Nevertheand especially not with St. Louis. Nevertheless Browning is chafing under idleness, and will probably wear a St. Louis uniform before

The Cincinnati team on Sunday, in its giee at having helped "Commy" much desired game from his old President's ciub, hit upon a new refrain for a popular chorus, which will hereafter be an indication that the Browns have lost. The whole nine was in the dressing room, splashing about in the bath tubs, in very scant cos-tume, when Catcher Harrington started up.

The refrain was carried out over the streets and ball grounds and is now the Uncinnati pæan of rejoicing.

Interesting Facts

Clothing Buyers.

THE woolen mills of this country are now making better fabrics, made of finer wool, and selling them at lower prices than at any time in the last twenty-five years. How can they do this? For the simple reason that in 1890 and 1891 the production of fine Australian, Cape of Good Hope and Argentine Republic wools was enormous, and these fine foreign wools have been selling in this country cheaper than ever. To meet competition in the American markets foreign woolen manufacturers have also had to reduce their prices. All large buyers of woolens understand these facts.

At this time every man needs a

An Absolutely Pure Malt Extract.

When we first conceived the idea to manufacture this nutritive tonic we were uncertain as to success, but knowing there was abundant room and place for it, if a really fine article could be produced, the experiment was made. It was our most earnest desire to produce, through the use of the choicest materials and most improved modern scientific appliances, aided by the highest educated skill and intelligence, a quality of Malt Extract unequaled by any other that had yet been put before the public. It was not merely an article that would sell that we sought to create. IT WAS ONE OF THE STRICTEST INTRINSIC MERIT that we aimed to produce, and to accomplish this we spared neither time, labor nor expense. Three years passed while we were yet continuously applying ourselves diligently to the task of bringing from the sum of our labors the result sought for; but we succeeded, and for nearly eight years the verdict of the medical schools and the public throughout this land has been attested and sealed by their appreciation of its superior merit, as the continuously growing demand through each successive year since its introduction to the people has shown. Its analysis, which we have often published, proves it to be the most delicate and at the same time the most nutritious of all modern Malt Liquids. It is pleasant to the taste, gracious to the stomach and generous in its production of new blood and flesh, a reinvigorator of mind and body, besides being to old people, invalids, delicate children and nursing mothers a priceless panacea. The leading physicians prescribe it. It is sold
